Ulrich Cadfile

Ulrich Planfiling has been committed to designing and manufacturing vertical filing solutions for over 80 years. The latest innovation is Cadfile, the first vertical filing system geared for today's engineering office. Cadfile is a low cost, space-saving vertical filing cabinet full of design features.
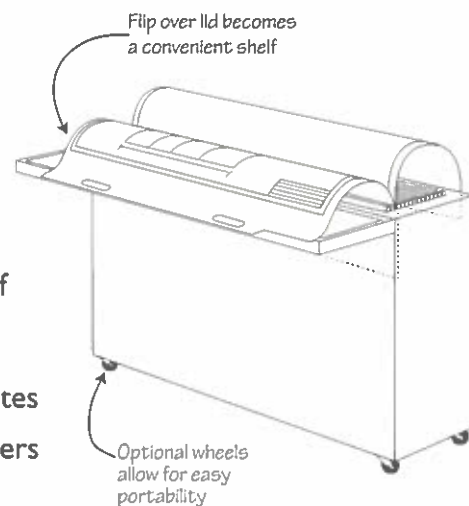

First of all, Cadfile is easy to use. Simply open the flip-over lid (which becomes a shelf) and pull out the required file. Every document remains perfectly smooth and flat because of Ulrich's unique compression system.

Flip over lid becomes a convenient shelf

Cadfile requires far less space than conventional flat files. Virtually any office has room for a Cadfile. Although Cadfile is compact, it doesn't sacrifice capacity. Cadfile will hold 1,000 24"x36" drawings, plottings or maps. And, you can customize individual files to hold any combination of smaller documents.

A major benefit from Cadfile's compact size and weight is that it eliminates expensive freight charges and the need for a loading dock. Optional casters make Cadfile a filing system that is mobile.

Optional wheels allow for easy portability

Cadfile adds up to a low cost filing system that is easy to use, easy to move and stores more documents in less space.

SPACE REQUIREMENTS / FLAT DRAWERS VS. CADFILE

Flat drawer files require 24 sq. feet of space with drawer open, not to mention space required in front of opened drawer.

Cadfile requires only 5.8 sq. ft. of space with lid open. That is 75 percent less space!
